Copywriting Intern

NOSH by aims to revolutionise the meals delivery and takeaway business in Hong Kong. Led by the vision ‘Eat Smarter. Live Better.’ NOSH provides gourmet and healthy takeaway meals, while also providing nutritional value, eco-friendly packaging, and a simple mobile site.

We are looking for a young, passionate and creative individual who can write content for newsletters, blog posts, social media and other publications.

If you are a big foodie and is interested in developing career in F&B industry with a vibrant and international team, we’d love to hear from you.

As a Junior Copywriter, your day might include:

- Brainstorming content and marketing campaigns
- Browsing social media to look for the right content
- Drafting social media and newsletter
- Writing blog and Linkedin posts
- Tasting of our new recipes
- Engaging in social media to build a community for NOSH
- Consolidating healthy tips for chatbot content and E-books

This position might be for you if you’re:

- Year 3/ Year 4 bachelor’s student/ master local students from universities in Hong Kong
- Excellent communications skills in English and Cantonese; written and verbal.
- A hassler who can get things done
- Open-minded, creative and love new ideas
- Tech savvy and open to learning how to use new technologies to increase efficiency
- Able to work 1-2 days a week
- Looking for full-time opportunities after your internship.

What we offer:

- Steep learning curve
- Creative freedom (we respect the ideas from everyone in the company, including you)
- Regular company and team events
- Responsibility from day one in a fast growing company
- Free food (of course!)

Job Location: Chai wan/ Remote

Application Method: Submit cover letter and CV to joseph@nosh.hk.

Application Deadline: 3 August 2018 (Friday)