Spring gatherings

Around 50 alumni and friends, including several HKU exchange students at University of California at Davis and Santa Cruz, had an enjoyable evening at the annual spring banquet. The after-dinner entertainment was singing performances by the mentor-mentee team of Lawrence Ng 吳銘來 (MBBS 1965) - Mandy Leung, and mentees Faith Choi and Karen Chan (left).

Headed by Dr Kan Yue-hwa (MBBS 1958; DSc 1980), HKU alumni joined a spring reception hosted by alumnae Jacqueline Willis 韋玉儀 (BA 1969) and Doris Cheung 張美珠 (BA 1983) of the Hong Kong Economic & Trade Office (HKETO).

Dr James Tang’s visit

Dr James Tang 鄧樹珍 (BA 1981) visited the Bay Area in April. At a dinner gathering jointly hosted by the HKETO in San Francisco and the HKUAA North California, Dr Tang shared with the audience the latest developments at HKU, and his insights on the impact of energy safety on China’s foreign policy and international relations.

NEW ZEALAND

A Touch of Italy in the heart of Auckland

The HKUANZ Midwinter Dinner in Auckland on June 25 was well received and all 60 seats at the Italian restaurant were spoken for weeks before the event. The mouth-watering menu included typical Italian fare such as antipasto, veal scaloppini and tiramisu. But the stand-out highlight of the evening was the musical offering featuring alumni Joseph Cheang and his wife Veronica Cheang. Joseph sang four arias, choosing to portray what he called “the romantic, the sad, the angry and the confident lover” in Italian opera. A fine tenor, Joseph’s encore rendition of “O Solo Mio” brought the house down. President Allen Liang 梁以銘 [MBBS 1967] led the welcome and introductions and, as usual, delighted everyone with his unique brand of wit and humour.

Alumnus Joseph Cheang sang four arias to entertain fellow HKU alumni.

Two Pioneers of Immigrants’ Rights

Two distinguished Chinese-Canadians Dr Li Kwok-chu and Mrs Lilian To, both HKU alumni, had been forerunners of immigrants’ rights in Canada. They were instrumental in building the United Chinese Community Enrichment Services Society (SUCCESS; 中僑互助會) from a small non-profit society into the largest immigrant service agency in Vancouver, British Columbia, serving a clientele of more than 760,000 people in a dozen languages. Their passing within the past two years was deeply mourned by many Canadians.

Lilian To 陶黃彥斌 (BA 1967; AdvDip(SocWk) 1968)

Lilian To began her social work career with the Social Welfare Department of the Hong Kong Government in August 1968, holding a variety of appointments including warden of a community centre - a position she held till December 1973 when she prepared to emigrate to Canada.

After working briefly as a psychiatric social worker, she became one of the first staff members of SUCCESS, where she served as a community worker and research coordinator. She left SUCCESS in 1976 to work at the Langley Mental Health Centre as a psychiatric residential care service coordinator.

She returned to SUCCESS in May 1988 as Executive Director and rose to Chief Executive Officer. Under her leadership, the organisation became the largest immigrant service agency in British Columbia, providing a range of services. She served the group selflessly for 17 years until her unexpected death on July 2, 2005. Over 1,000 people attended a special service at Broadway Church to celebrate her life and commemorate her lifelong accomplishments.

Mrs To received many awards, some posthumously. They included the Vancouver Multicultural Society’s Distinguished Service Award in the area of Public Service, the Canadian 125th Anniversary Confederation Medal and the Mike Horsey Free Spirit Award. In 1998 the Vancouver Sun named her one of the 25 most influential people in British Columbia.

"Mrs To was an example of all of the values that our country embodies. Her commitment to her work and her caring, compassionate attitude won her the gratitude and respect of thousands of Chinese-Canadians over the past 30 years."

– The Rt Hon Stephen Harper, Prime Minister of Canada

Dr Li Kwok-chu 李國柱 (MBBS 1954)

Dr Li Kwok-chu, who was dubbed the "Father of SUCCESS" (中僑之父) by the former Governor of British Columbia Dr David C Lam, passed away peacefully on April 15, 2006.

Dr Li ran his Hong Kong private medical practice from 1961 to 1969. He and his family emigrated to Canada where he completed his specialist training in Psychiatry at the University of British Columbia and obtained his Fellowship in Psychiatry in 1973.

For the next 23 years, Dr Li served tirelessly as a consultant psychiatrist for the community mental health team. He was a Clinical Associate Professor in Psychiatry and a mentor to a large number of colleagues. He was a pioneer in multicultural psychiatry through his Chinese cultural and language background, and Canadian training.

Dr Li was a philanthropist and community leader who served with dedication and enthusiasm. He was one of the early members of SUCCESS, which was formed in late 1974. From then till 1987, he was instrumental in shaping the group into a vibrant social service organisation. He served as its Chair (1978-1979), and Chair of its Advisory Council (1975-1981); Dr Li was honoured with many awards, including the Award of Excellence in 1996.

Writing poems was Dr Li’s hobby. “The Longitudinal Literary & Graphic Records of Our Family” is a collection of over 180 poems written by him.

Dim Sum Lunches, Management Forum and Alumni Salon

The HKU Alumni Shanghai Network, led by Clement Wang, held the dim sum lunches in recent months, one of which was attended by Teresa Tong, Chairman of Convocation. "Meetings of this nature are an excellent way for HKU alumni to network, especially when they are overseas," said Teresa, who was on a business trip to Shanghai which coincided with the lunch.

In the last six months, the alumni chapter also established itself as a leading member of a multi-university alumni network. After organising a joint-university Chinese New Year party at O’Malley’s Pub, the group arranged a joint-university dinner, which was held at the Shanghai Stock Exchange. Some 160 inter-university alumni attended, with tables filled from HKU, CUHK, Fudan, INSEAD, IBS, National Taiwan University, Peking, Queensland, Thunderbird, Tsinghua, Wharton and Yale.

The Only Female Residential Hall

With a generous donation from Sir Robert Ho Tung, Lady Ho Tung Hall was first established in 1951 in memory of Lady Margaret Ho Tung. The old hall was located in the present Jockey Club Student Village I, and accommodated 104 female students.

In 1997, the old hall was demolished to construct a new hall to cater to the increasing demand for residential places. From 1997 until 2001 Lady Ho Tung Hall continued her traditions and functions by functioning as a non-residential hall. In 2001, the new hall with all modern facilities was established and can accommodate 404 students.

Ho Tung girls’ spirits are well-known by the slogans ‘tough and strong’, ‘united together’ and ‘dare to try’. The hall has eleven sport teams, four cultural teams and interest groups, and was awarded the ‘Olma Challenge Rose Bowl Trophy’ of Inter-Hall Women Overall Championship in 2005-2006.

Golf Malayan Cup – St Johnians vs Riccians

On May 10, some 60 St Johnians and Riccians gathered at Mission Hills to compete for the third annual Golf Malayan Cup. Yet, in the end, St John’s Alumni lost to the Ricci Hall (4.5 vs 7.5) for the second consecutive year.
