

Accuray develops, manufactures and sells radiotherapy systems that make cancer treatments shorter, safer, personalized and more effective, ultimately enabling patients to live longer, better lives. Our radiation treatment delivery systems in combination with fully-integrated software solutions set the industry standard for precision and cover the full range of radiation therapy and radiosurgery procedures

Medical Physicist and Clinical Application Specialist Asia Pacific (Ref: MPCAS/jobdb/07252019)

The Medical Physicist and Clinical Application Specialist APAC will be primarily responsible for the clinical application training, application support, physics support and all aspects of commissioning and quality assurance(QA) activities to the end users and distributors in Asia Pacific. The specialist will work closely with sales, marketing, customer support department on a variety of cross-functional projects. He/she will act as a subject matter expert and review various training related materials. The work location is in Hong Kong and this position reports to the Manager, Clinical Training.

Responsibilities:

- Provide Physics and Clinical Application Training to Tomotherapy and Radixact customers in the Asia Pacific region.
- Provide Physics and Clinical Applications Support to customers. This will include both clinical operation and treatment planning, treatment delivery and to be a part on call support.
- Provide support to Sales, Marketing departments. Participate actively in on-site and in-house presentations.
- Work with marketing department in achieving marketing objectives of products and services defined in the annual marketing plan.

Qualifications:

- MS in Medical Physics is preferred
- 2 years of prior experience in Radiation Oncology or 2 years as a Medical Physicist.
- Work Experience as an Oncology Dosimetrist will also be considered

Attributes:

Must be:

- A team player and contribute openly to colleagues
- A self-starter, and able to take initiative
- Self-motivated and self-discipline.
- Capable of working without close supervision, be able to successfully schedule, organize and conduct field service activities in assigned territories.
- Prepared to work flexible hours including weekends.
- Willing to travel overseas on an as needed basis

Must have

- A positive attitude and be highly motivated.
- Strong interpersonal skills and be an effective communicator.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and Chinese (Mandarin)
- Well-developed interpersonal skills

We offer five-day work with attractive benefits package to the right candidates. Please send your resume with current and expected salary details and a cover letter quoting the job reference to jobs-asia@accuray.com

All information received will be kept strictly confidential and used for recruitment purposes only.