

Campaign for the Rebuilding of Morrison Hall

In 1913, a hostel built by the London Missionary Society on Hatton Road, opened its door to HKU students.

In 1916, the hostel was named Morrison Hall in memory of Dr Robert Morrison, an early Society missionary and first translator of the Bible into Chinese.

In 1968, the Hall was closed down.

In 1997, a group of Morrisonians initiated the "Campaign for the Rebuilding of Morrison Hall" aiming to revitalize the "Morrisonian Spirit" and contribute to redressing the shortfall in student accommodation.

On February 22, 2003, a ground breaking ceremony of the new Morrison Hall was held at the Flora Ho Sports Centre.

In 2005, the new 16-storey Morrison Hall, located adjacent to the Flora Ho Sports Centre, will be completed and will provide accommodation to 300 students.

*"One Two Three, Three Two One, Morrison Morrison Easy One!"
More than forty Morrisonians reunited in their War Cry and M-coat.*

Dr Dexter Man, the most senior Morrisonian (BScEng '40, HonDSocSc '98) received his University certificate (a replica of his certificate which was destroyed during the Japanese invasion) from Vice-Chancellor Lap-Chee Tsui.

Former Vice-Chancellor, Professor Y C Cheng (in M-coat), was among the first Morrisonians to initiate and support the Rebuilding Campaign.
